The Total Recall Learning (TRL) approach combines learning and assessment into one seamless activity. Our programs continually probe the student, finding out at each instant what the student can and cannot do. This individualized learning approach assures long-term retention of learned material, while drastically reducing study time.

For Students and Adult Learners

As a student of any age, you want to minimize your study time and maximize what you remember. This approach results in immediate and future time-savings, as you do not have to re-learn anything.

But what happens when you learn new material in the normal way? You will forget 65% in just a single day! At the end of one month, 80% of all learned material is forgotten! What a waste of time and effort!

That is when TRL comes to the rescue.

The program's artificial intelligence continually monitors your retention to eliminate forgetting. And all courses are presented in a highly engaging multimedia format.

Since TRL courses contain the essential knowledge building blocks and key terms for a specific subject area, laborious reading is not required. Just use the program for a few minutes a day, and it systematically sorts known material from forgotten material, until you remember everything for good. This approach drastically reduces overall study time and makes test taking a breeze!
